

Miss Texas, Mallory Fuller

SPEAKER. ADVOCATE. SCHOLAR. FIDDLER. AUTHOR.

BIO

Mallory Fuller is a 24-year-old graduate of Texas A&M University who is currently pursuing a Master of Science degree in Communication Sciences and Disorders from Baylor University. In her role as Miss Texas, Mallory travels the state on a year-long speaking tour to discuss various topics such as education, community service, and women's empowerment. Additionally, as part of the "Texas Cares For Children" program, a 501(c)(3) foundation, she will share with students a character-education program that includes the importance of making good choices, developing positive activities and habits, good citizenship, and responsibility. After her year of service as Miss Texas, Mallory will continue utilizing the more than $30,000 in educational scholarships earned from the Miss Texas Scholarship Organization to complete her graduate degree and pursue a career in Speech Pathology.

MALLORY'S MISSION: SUICIDE PREVENTION

Mallory began advocating for suicide prevention after experiencing the unthinkable loss of her friend, Jonny, to suicide at the age of fifteen. In 2015, She testified in front of the Texas Education Committee on behalf of the Jason Flatt Act, a critical piece of legislation that now ensures Texas educators receive annual training on suicide prevention.

Mallory has done a tremendous job increasing awareness within the community and has provided possibly life-saving information to countless members of the public. She has made a significant impact that has the potential to reach someone who may be struggling with thoughts of suicide.

- Brett Marciel

Jason Foundation, Director of Public Relations

Her mission is simple: to save lives. Mallory is a National Spokesperson and Trained Advocate for the Jason Foundation. She has delivered suicide prevention education to thousands of people including children, college students, parents, and community organizations. Mallory's message is tailored to reach audiences of all ages and demographics in her fight to prevent suicide.

AUTHOR OF HENRY'S HAPPY HEART AND HENRY GETS HELP

Mallory has written two children's books which were designed to start a conversation about emotions and mental health between the reader and a young audience. Henry's Happy Heart focuses on the importance of goal setting, talking to trusted adults about our feelings, and the value of building positive friendships. Mallory's second book, Henry Gets Help, aims to normalize seeking help from a school counselor during difficult times. Both books are available on Amazon and one copy is donated to a school library for every five copies sold.

A BEAUTIFULLY WRITTEN BOOK THAT COVERS A DIFFICULT TOPIC.

I love that the author was able to break down, to a child's level, this crucial conversation that every parent needs to have. A must have for every parent!
